

A NEW CAREER BEGINS. Co-operative Education is a two-way exchange between classroom achievements and the workplace application of knowledge. Both the employer and the student should consider each work term to be a learning term, with the objective of achieving productive work. There are multiple benefits to employers, including access to a high-quality workforce as well as assistance with short-term workload. Students who graduate from co-operative education programs are more readily hired and integrated into the workplace.

Qualifying Business Program students entering the Accounting stream at Redeemer University College have met rigorous internal requirements, including minimum grade standards. This Co-operative Education program is accredited by CPA Canada and CEWIL (Co-operative Education and Work Integrated Learning Canada). They will be graduated with a 4-year B.A. or an Honours B.A. degree having completed 16 months of work-integrated learning in their third and fourth years.

PROCESS

To recruit a student, you have a choice of two approaches. You may simply send a job description to the Centre for Experiential Learning and Careers (CELC). Or you may post your opportunity directly on our internal posting portal, HireRedeemer: appserve.redeemer.ca/yourcareer/post-a-job/

We will work with you to define a role for the student that meets both your objectives and the necessary elements of a co-op work term. We consider factors such as program relevance, the opportunity for mentoring, and level of challenge.

In addition to the role description, describe where and how you wish to receive applications. For example, we would be pleased to collect and convey the applicants' covering letters, resumes, and transcripts to your attention or have the applicants respond directly to your organization. Your opportunity will then be displayed to eligible students on HireRedeemer.

Together we will arrange interviews at your convenience, either at Redeemer or at your office. The opportunity to conduct interviews via telephone or other electronic means, can be arranged. Note, all offers and acceptances should be coordinated through the CELC.
